Bless This Rain.

It has kept you home today and given us a chance to go through the stocks and give you a list of bargains-remnants-for tomorrow that'll create more than two days of ordinary business in one-rain or shine.

The Palais Royal

Thursday's Our Remnant Day.

Learn of These Dresses and Waists. 59c $1.75 $2.98 $4.48

$1.00 Waists. $3.00 Dresses. $5.98 Dresses. $7.50 Suits.

The thousands of $1.00 Waists have been "gone through," and the stock is now "as clean as a new pin." See tomorrow's table full of the culled Waists at 59c for choice. At $1.75 are 2-piece House Dresses that'll make you as sweet as this month of roses. Reduced to $2.98 are Lingerie Dresses in the larger sizes, of which we have too many. At $4.48 are a few Pure Linen $7.50 Suits in small and medium sizes.

Dresses for $6.25. Were $10, $12.50 and $25.

The Lingerie Dresses used in the show windows and on figures in the third floor parlors. Some show slight signs-for which we allow you from $3.75 to $8.75. Only a few of them. Come early to-15c 29c 49c $1, $1.50 and $2 Hats.

No passe styles—the Palais Roya! Millinery Store is like an ever running stream. Sometimes it's like a mountain torrent—it will be tomorrow.

5c 9c 25c 19c and Up to $1 Flowers.

If you are a regular patron vou will consult your favorite milliner and a pretty Summer Hat will cost you the littlest price you ever dreamed.

Trimmed Hats, $1.98 None Were Less Than $5.

All made in the workrooms here by artist milliners. No factory made "horrors" ever mar the Palais Royal reputation.

methods of study were changed to keep abreast with the advancement made in all

This explanation seems to be necessary in order to correct two erroneous reports that have gone out regarding hese changes. First, that there has been or was intended to be some reflection upon the quality of the student material that was doing its work in the evening, and that there was a false notion that by doing this work in the afternoon instead of in the evening it would necessarily be of a higher grade. It would have been quite as possible, so far as the work is concerned, to have made it just what it is now in every particular, and continue it in the evening, but there would not have been that close association, that solidarity of the student body which now exists. "Another decided advantage which has been reached by this change is the reputation which the university has attained by placing itself in line with other institutions in this regard. It is not today a collection of isolated schools. It is a solid, compact body of fine students; a united teaching staff-in short, a uni-

"The spirit of scientific investigation is everywhere present in this age, and nowhere is it more prevalent than in the colleges and universities that are keeping ace with scientific thought and methods.
